

CXO FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The CXO Fellowship Program is a professional development program that engages the next generation of federal leaders in acquisition/procurement, financial management/budget, human capital, and information technology.

PROGRAM DETAILS

Fellows remain in their current positions and come together twice a month as a cohort for development sessions in leadership, cross-functional and interagency collaboration, and career development.

Fellows meet with leaders in the federal management community and gain insight into innovative initiatives and best practices.

There is no cost to participate in the program.

CXO FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

PROGRAM MISSION

- Connect the rising leaders across government in functions of federal acquisition/procurement, finance management/budgeting, human capital, and information technology.
- Build relationships through cross-community collaboration and interactive discussions.
- Invest in outstanding federal employees by broadening the scope of their knowledge and developing well-rounded leaders.

HOW TO APPLY

- Visit cfo.gov/cxo-fellows for more information and requirements.

WHY APPLY

"I applied to this program because I was at a point in my career where I wanted to take some next steps and was looking for new opportunities to grow."

Mindy Covington, Class of 2019, Human Capital

"The program has impacted my career a great deal. I switched positions at the end of the program thanks to the encouragement and support from the connections I made."

Angie Piazza, Class of 2019, Finance

SIBEL GOLDFEIZ

This program is helping the next generation of government leaders grow professionally. I think it is helping us learn in a more innovative way and we are able to share what we have learned with our agencies. It really helps us connect with other federal government agencies so we are not in our own little bubble.

- Class of 2020, Acquisition

LATORIA WOFFORD

I thought we would only learn about what it is to become a leader, but we are learning so much more than that -- things about Agile project management, communication, networking, and more.

- Class of 2020, Information Technology

JAMES QUINN

Messaging from some of the sessions has guided me in projects I've worked on. My manager has been 100% behind these things. It's made a big difference.

- Class of 2020, Human Capital
